Letter from Max.

Hi LEGO Club members. We've got a spooky (almost) Halloween issue of LEGO Club Magazine for you!

Head straight to page 5 and jump onboard the Runaway Ghost Train, a tale of our daring heroes attempt to track down the moonstones and stop the mysterious ghost train.

Ghosts, vampires and monsters not your thing? Then perhaps explore the LEGO City Mine on page 9 to learn all about the equipment used in real mines around the world, or check out the Brickman's latest creation: The Colosseum, and be inspired to build your very own Roman Chariot.

We've also got some cool stuff for all you LEGO Technic fans: there's Member reviews on page 11 and a LEGO Technic Crawler Challenge on page 16 - your version of a 4x4 Crawler could become a LEGO Technic set in 2013!

Tip: Make sure to write down or cut out your 9 digit LEGO Club Membership number from the envelope - you'll need it to enter LEGO Club competitions!

Alert! We're changing the dates we send LEGO Club Magazines to you. The next issue of LEGO Club Magazine will be the January - March 2013 issue of LEGO Club Magazine.

Wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year.
See you in January!

LEGO CITY MINE!

How do LEGO mining vehicles compare to the ones real miners use?

Mining trucks like this one help carry rocks away from the mine. They are normally called "haul trucks" or "dump trucks" and are designed to be used off-road.

This kind of crane is called a Dragline Excavator. It's used to remove rocks, gravel and other material from the area being mined.

Mining Trams are carts built to run on paths similar to railroad tracks that carry supplies, tools and workers in and out of the mine safely.

THE EQUIPMENT WE USE AT THE LEGO CITY MINE IS JUST LIKE WHAT'S USED IN MINES ALL OVER THE WORLD. CHECK OUT THE REAL-LIFE VERSIONS OF OUR VEHICLES ON THESE PAGES!

MINING CAN BE HARD WORK, BUT WITH THE RIGHT TOOLS AND VEHICLES, IT'S A BLAST!

When miners need to dig deep, they use huge, high-powered drills to power through hard rock.

Dig deep for LEGO City adventure and be sure check out an all-new LEGO City mini-movie at LEGO.com/city

MEMBER REVIEWS!

S streak across the sky with the LEGO® Technic Jet Plane. Jump in the cockpit, close the canopy and take off! Operate the retractable landing gear and working ailerons and then sweep the wings back and go supersonic! Read on to find out what these LEGO Club reviewers thought of the LEGO Technic Jet Plane (9394).

Do you want to be a LEGO Club Reviewer! Email your name, membership number, age and address to LEGOclub\_AU@LEGO.com (please insert 'I want to be a January LEGO Club Reviewer' in the subject line) and you could be selected to review a LEGO product for the January 2013 issue of LEGO Club Magazine. Good Luck! ■

Bryan L.

Lidcombe NSW
AU, 10 years

Building the Jet Plane was quite challenging although I found the Technic Mobile Crane harder to build. I'd like to try building the 2nd model (an Aerobatic Plane), but I find it easier to follow the instructions in the book than on the internet. The Jet Plane is very different to my other LEGO sets as it has a lot more features to play with and operate which makes it better as it won't become boring as fast! It was really fun to play with and build the Jet Plane – it will look good on my LEGO shelf!

Bryan's Product Rating = ■■■■■ /5

Liam M.

Cromer NSW
Australia, 9 years

I really enjoyed building the Jet Plane, the instructions were easy to follow but it was more difficult than the sets I usually build (LEGO City and LEGO® Star Wars™). I love planes and it was really fun to play with. I like the fact that you can turn a lever to make the wheels fold inwards like they do on a real plane. It's the best plane I've ever seen and makes me want to build more LEGO Technic sets.

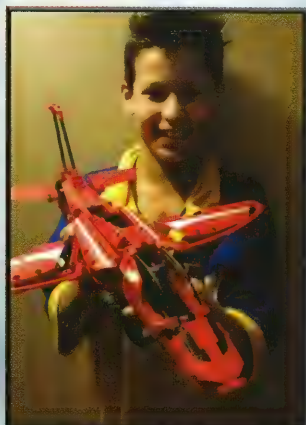

Liam's Product Rating = ■■■■■ /5

Liam D.

East Kurranjong NSW
Australia, 10 years

I liked playing with the plane – my favourite part was the landing gear on it. The Jet Plane was very different and much better than my other LEGO sets. I loved building the Jet Plane, the instructions were really easy to follow and I could see that you could build another model with this set. I wouldn't make any changes to it as it's really cool as it is!

Liam's Product Rating = ■■■■■ /5

Alex B.

Berala NSW
Australia
10 years

It was fun to build the Jet Plane and took a long time, it was harder to build than my other LEGO toys but LEGO instructions are always easy to follow. My brother and I had fun playing with the Jet Plane, and I liked how you could move some parts of it. My cousins saw the Jet Plane and they all want one too because it's awesome. This is my first LEGO Technic set, all of my LEGO sets are fun to play with but this one is the best.

THE BRICKMAN'S

CORNER!

Rome wasn't built in a day is the old saying and I completely agree. My latest creation, a LEGO brick rendition of the Colosseum took me much more than a day, in fact it took me 5 weeks and 200,000 LEGO bricks to put it together! To continue the Roman theme I thought that in this issue of the LEGO Club Magazine I could show you how to build a chariot to race around your own version of the LEGO Colosseum.

Since the June issue LEGO Club Magazine I've been out visiting quite a few building events around the country and I have met a lot of you from the LEGO Club, what an amazing group of builders you are. I think I better watch out, you'll have my job in no time!

Later this year I'm going to be making "The Big Build" From 50,000 2 x 4 green LEGO bricks, and you could choose what I create! It's part of the Festival of Play and submissions are open now, so make sure you head to the website www.LEGOFestival.com.au and let me know what you think I should build. I can't wait to see your ideas!

THIS ISSUE OF LEGO CLUB MAGAZINE, RYAN ANSWERS SOME OF YOUR QUESTIONS!

How many bricks did it take to build 101 Collins Street, Melbourne (Featured in the December 2011 issue of LEGO Club Magazine and how much time did you spend building it? Jaden.

It took 15,000 LEGO bricks and 3 weeks to build. It used to be the tallest item I've ever built until I made the Saturn V rocket! Perhaps you can build your favourite building too?

Does your family get involved with your creations and if so how? Alexander.

Sometimes they do, but often my two boys are too busy making LEGO Ninjago super planes and windmill lighthouses! It's a lot of fun when we get to build together - we end up with all sorts of crazy contraptions!

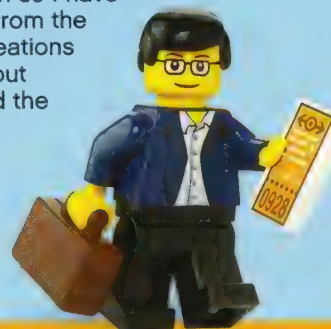

101 Collins Street, Melbourne

I like how you design all these amazing LEGO models. I hope one day that I could be like you. I wondered how you get all the LEGO pieces you need to build your models. Can you give me tips on how to be a good LEGO builder (like you) so I can make LEGO all day long? Sebastian, 9.

As a LEGO Certified Professional I work very closely with the LEGO Group and am able to purchase most of the LEGO bricks that I use directly from the LEGO Group. Sometimes I can't get the parts I need though so I have to wait for a sale and get them from the stores. Remember with your creations it's not about how big they are but how good your model looks and the story it tells!

RIDE AT THE SPEED OF VENGEANCE!

SPEEDA DEMON has broken free and he's determined never to go back to a cell! Only STORMER XL can hope to stop this super-charged villain, but is even the latest Hero Factory tech enough to slow SPEEDA DEMON down?

NITRO ROCKET MOTORBIKE

Designed based on plans stolen from one of Hero Factory's top scientists, this bike can reach speeds faster than that of any known land vehicle, while still being able to carry off dangerous maneuvers with ease.

WING BLADES

The bike's wing blades can be used to damage other vehicles that might be pursuing SPEEDA DEMON. They provide extra protection during those times he needs to slow down to commit a crime.

LIGHTNING EXHAUST

The rocket bike's quintronic transnuclear engine system is so powerful that raw electricity erupts from its specially reinforced exhaust system.

RAZOR WHEELS

If you're thinking of throwing obstacles in the path of the rocket bike, think again – these wheels can slice through iron and concrete, turning barriers into so much rubble.

SCOUT DRONES

Used to check the path ahead of possible traps or to spot a concealed villain.

POWER SWORD

Capable of delivering a mega high-voltage jolt to a villain, effectively paralyzing him by scrambling his electronic systems. Requires two minutes to fully recharge after every use.

HERO CUFFS

Power-dampening handcuffs for capturing enemies.

PLASMA BLASTER

Able to punch a hole through virtually any substance, this latest upgrade to the classic Hero Factory weapon can be set to track a specific individual by their unique heat signature.
